CUMBERLAND SCHOOL OF LAW

ACCREDITATION

The School of Law is fully approved by all national and state accrediting agencies. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is fully approved by the American Bar Association through its Section of Legal Education. The school is also approved by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York. Because of such approval, a graduate of the School of Law is eligible to take the bar examination in any State in the Union. The School is also approved by the Veterans Administration for the training of veterans.

PURPOSE

The purpose of Howard College is to provide the opportunity and the stimulus for each student to secure a broad and academically sound education in a positive Christian environment. The College strives constantly for academic excellence in conscious expression of the Christian faith with its commitment to the primacy of truth, its concern for human values, and the interrelationship of faith and reason.

In fulfilling the declared purpose of its charter, the College endeavors to promote Christianity through the development of Christian character, scholastic attainment, and a sense of personal responsibility. To this end, Howard seeks to develop Christian leaders for widely-varied fields of service.

Through a core curriculum emphasizing the liberal arts and sciences, the College seeks to encourage and help the student to achieve the following goals:

- To understand his physical and social environment, to apply habits of scientific thought to both individual and civic problems, and to appreciate the implications of the knowledge which he obtains.
- 2. To understand and appreciate the cultural arts as expressions of personal and social experience.
- To express himself effectively by using the tools of language efficiently.
- 4. To develop for the regulation of his personal and civic life a code of behavior based on Christian principles and ideals.

270 . C58

- 5. To participate actively in dealing with the social, economic, and political problems in his community, state, and nation.
- To recognize the interdependence of the different peoples of the world and his personal responsibility for fostering international understanding and peace.

In addition to these objectives, the College seeks to give to the student thorough basic education in his chosen field of specialization or in preparation for graduate study. To this end, it offers degree programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, the Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy, the Bachelor of Music, and the Bachelor of Laws. The College also offers preprofessional curricula in engineering, forestry, law, medicine, dentistry, medical technology, and nursing.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES OF LAW SCHOOL

The program of the School of Law seeks to maintain high standards of legal education and thereby to prepare young men and women of intelligence, industry and character for the practice of law, and to provide legal training for those planning to enter business or public service. The aim is to develop the analytical powers of the student, as well as to provide him with a knowledge of legal principles and their historical development, and at the same time to instill in each student a high sense of the ethics of the profession.

The School of Law is an integral part of Howard College and the objectives of the college are the objectives of the Law School within its sphere as applied to its specialty. The School of Law is church related and it seeks to offer a distinctive program emphasizing Christian precepts which are interwoven into our legal principles. The School is determined to teach the significance of law as a genuine part of the culture of the nation and to instill in the student a sense of social responsibility in the context of Christian ethics and the highest traditions of the legal profession. There is a conscious effort to develop all of the technical skills necessary for the lawyer, and to develop proficiency in legal reasoning and competence in legal method.

The School of Law recognizes the strategic importance of the legal profession which has almost exclusive control over the judiciary of our states and our nation and largely dominates the legislative and executive branches of our national and state governments. Being under the auspices of a conservative denomination which has always stood for the absolute spiritual freedom of the individual, the school emphasizes the American concept of maximum liberty in every phase of life for each individual, consistent with order in society. A Southern Baptist Law School without this emphasis would not be in harmony with its constituency.

It is our aim to expound a philosophy of law to the student which will recognize that all human law is valid and enduring only to the extent that it is in accord, directly or indirectly, with the eternal principles of God, which some refer to as natural law.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

The Baptist preachers and planters who founded Howard College at Marion, Alabama, in 1842 were dominated by an ardent and enduring conception of service. The culture and the religious views of the founders derived largely from the eastern seaboard and from New England. The first president of the college, Samuel Sterling Sherman, was a graduate of Middlebury College. The college in its beginnings was small, but in 1848 it graduated its first class—seven men. Twice before 1860 the college was rebuilt larger after destructive fires. It survived the partial paralysis of the Civil War and Reconstruction. Notable men made up the small faculty in those years and notable leaders came from their instruction.

The college was moved from Marion to Birmingham in 1887. Renfroe Hall was built in 1903 and Montague Hall in 1906. By 1912 there was again a nucleus of endowment to replace an earlier fund swept away by war. Howard, which was a military school for half a century after the Civil War, abandoned all military features in 1913 and in the same year opened its doors to women.

In 1915 the college offered its first summer session. In 1920 it began its extension service. The average enrollment of students in regular sessions in classes on the campus went to 600. Campaigns in 1919 and in 1926 raised the total endowment to $735,000. The A. D. Smith Science Hall was built in 1922 and the gymnasium in 1930. The curriculum in Pharmacy was initiated in 1928. In 1918 Howard was put on the approved list of the American Association of University Women. In 1920 the college was admitted to the Southern Association of Colleges and in 1926 it was put on the approved list of the Association of American Universities. In 1952 the college was admitted to membership in the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. In 1954 Howard was admitted to membership in the National Association of Schools of Music.

In 1947 the trustees of the college acquired a tract of 400 acres in Shades Valley in the Homewood-Mountain Brook section of Birmingham. The Alabama Baptist State Convention authorized the building of a new college on this site, and work was begun in 1954. The college moved to the new site in the summer of 1957.

In 1961 Howard acquired the renowned and historic Cumberland School of Law.

Twelve buildings are completed. In the order of their completion they are: the Erskine Ramsay Faculty Apartment Building, the Frank Park Samford Hall (Administration), the Robert I. Ingalls, Sr. Hall (Science), the Harwell Goodwin Davis Library, the Biology Building, the Men's and Women's Residence Halls, the Student Union-Food Center Building, the John H. Buchanan Hall (Fine Arts), the Religious Education Building, the A. Hamilton Reid Chapel, F. Page Seibert Hall (Health and Physical Education). Additional residence halls for Men and Women and apartments for married students are under construction, and the Cyclotron Building.

The Spirit of Howard College has always been finely democratic. Faculty and students make Howard the friendly college.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL OF LAW

The Cumberland School of Law was established in Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tennessee, October 1, 1847, as a result of the action of the Board of Trustees taken on February 22, 1847. When the School of Law opened, the course of study comprised two years of law without any definite pre-legal requirements. In 1871 the course of study was reduced to one year; this plan was continued till 1935, with major emphasis on the textbook plan of study. On July 10, 1946, the two-year plan was officially closed. Beginning in September, 1946, the requirements of the School of Law were established as follows: (1) two years of pre-legal college work with a minimum of 96 quarter hours; (2) three years of full-time study of law. In September, 1952, the pre-legal college work requirement was increased to three years.

The School of Law, as it is now constituted, requires three years as a minimum of pre-legal study and three years of study in the School of Law as a requirement for the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Every phase of the work in the School of Law has been set up on a standard basis.

In February, 1949, provisional approval was given the Cumberland School of Law of Cumberland University by the American Bar Association. Full approval was granted by the American Bar Association in September of 1952. In November of 1952 the School was registered by the Board of Regents of the State of New York. In December of 1952 the school was granted membership in the Association of American Law Schools. This gained for the School of Law every recognition possible for an American law school.

The Cumberland School of Law became a part of Howard College in Birmingham, Alabama, on June 27, 1961.

ALUMNI

Since 1847, the School of Law has awarded over 8,025 degrees of Bachelor of Laws. Alumni are to be found in all fifty states of the nation, the District of Columbia, the Philippines, the Canal Zone, and Puerto Rico. Graduates of the Cumberland School of Law have also come from such foreign countries as Canada, Cuba, Egypt, Japan, Korea, Mexico, and Pakistan. Many of them now occupy distinguished positions of high responsibility in education, government, and business.

Among its more than 8,000 alumni, over 4,000 of whom are now living, the School of Law has produced ten governors, two United States Supreme Court justices, a Secretary of State of the United States, ten United States senators, seventy-five United States representatives, numerous supreme court justices of the various states, federal district and appellate judges, state appellate judges, state attorneys general, lieutenant governors, United States and state district attorneys, diplomatic officials, college presidents, law professors, distinguished legal writers and scholars, administrative officials of the United States and state governments. Through the years, the Cumberland School of Law has been regularly staffed with many brilliant legal scholars—distinguished men like Abraham Caruthers, author of Caruthers' History of Lawsuit; Dr. Andrew C. Martin; Nathan Green, Sr.; Nathan Green, Jr.; Grafton Green; A. B. Neil; Sam B. Gilreath, revisor of History of a Lawsuit and editorial consultant for the new Tennessee Code, and many other outstanding leaders of the profession.

LOCATION

Howard's new four-hundred-acre campus of Colonial-Georgian architecture is one of the most beautiful in the entire nation. Located in the picturesque mountainous area of Shades Valley, the college has unlimited possibilities for continued growth and development.

Birmingham, Alabama's largest city, is the state's industrial, business, and cultural center. Fine facilities are available for recreational pursuits.

The college, easily reached by an excellent system of railways, air lines and highways, is one of the leading tourist attractions.

The new home of the School of Law is temporarily in the dignified and imposing Harwell G. Davis Library Building in the center of the campus. It is anticipated that a new Law Building will be constructed within the next two years.

THE CORDELL HULL LIBRARY

The Law Library contains a collection of 23,000 volumes. The library is kept up to date by the constant addition of newly published books, current legal periodicals, and current loose-leaf services.

In addition, the library keeps a great collection of other standard law books, the English Reprint, and later published cases, and the current Statutes Revised.

THE GREEN CHAIR OF LAW

In 1948 the Green Chair of Law was established in connection with the Second Century Program of development of Cumberland University while Cumberland was being operated under the auspices of the Tennessee Baptist Convention. This endowed Chair was named in honor of three men who rendered distinguished service to Cumberland University and to the State of Tennessee. These were Nathan Green; his son, Nathan Green, Junior; and the latter's son, Grafton Green. Nathan Green and Nathan Green, Junior, were professors in the School of Law. Grafton Green was an alumnus of the University, and took time from his arduous duties as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Tennessee to serve as special lecturer in the School of Law.

By action of the Board of Trustees in January, 1950, Judge Sam B. Gilreath was appointed Green Professor of Law. Judge Gilreath, a professor of law since 1932, is the first to receive the honor of appointment to Green Chair of Law.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTRANCE

PRE-LEGAL EDUCATION

Preparation for law study, as well as for later life, is best based on a broad liberal arts background, rather than on a narrowly specialized one. The Cumberland School of Law of Howard College has no set pre-law curriculum requirements for admission.

Each person's qualifications will be evaluated individually. Rather than attempting to prescribe the specific content of the individual courses taken by a pre-law student, the Cumberland School of Law places greater emphasis on the student's ability to read and comprehend accurately, thoroughly and rapidly, to speak and write clearly and correctly, to think precisely and logically, to analyze complex fact situations, and to weigh and appraise legal and other materials. It is believed that to accomplish these purposes a student should take as much college work as possible. It is suggested the pre-legal program of study include English composition and literature, economics, history, political science, philosophy, psychology and other subjects in the field of social sciences, as well as courses in the natural sciences, mathematics and accounting. It is believed that the above suggestions will tend to prepare the prospective law student academically and will also help make him aware of the moral and ethical principles inculcated in the Judaic-Christian tradition upon which western civilization is based.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The Cumberland School of Law selects its students from the following classes of applicants:

- (1) Applicants who present evidence that they are graduates of an accredited college, and
- (2) Applicants who have completed satisfactorily in residence at an accredited college or university at least three-fourths of the requirements of a four-year course of study acceptable for a bachelor's degree (A.B. or B.S.) with a scholastic average at least equal to the average required for graduation in the institution attended. Non-theory courses in military science, hygiene, domestic arts, physical education, vocal or instrumental music, practice teaching, teaching methods and techniques, and similar courses are not acceptable under the above rule. Required non-theory work is accepted up to ten per cent of the total credit offered for admission, but grades in such courses are excluded in computing the grade-point average.

Applicants are selected on the basis of their Law School Admission Test scores, the quality of their college work, and their general fitness for the study of law. Women are admitted on equal terms with men.

LAW SCHOOL ADMISSION TEST

All applicants for admission as beginning law students must take the Law School Admission Test. Any applicant failing to take the test or failing to obtain a postponement prior to registration is ineligible to register for work in the Cumberland School of Law. The grade received on the test will be considered in determining whether or not the applicant shall be admitted to the School of Law and/or continued in the School of Law.

Information regarding the test may be secured from the office of the Law School at Howard College or from the Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

The Law School Admission Test is given on the Howard College campus four times each calendar year. The dates for the 1961-1962 tests are set for November 18, 1961; February 10, 1962; April 28, 1962; August 4, 1962. Applications for this test should be made well in advance of the day the test is given.

COMBINATION ARTS-LAW DEGREE

In a number of colleges a student who has completed three years of work towards the A.B. or equivalent degree will be allowed to spend a year of law study elsewhere and count such year of law credit as the final year of work for the literary degree. Students interested in this combination should consult their own college officials as to its possibility.

HOWARD COLLEGE COMBINED DEGREES PROGRAM

Students may combine work done in the College of Liberal Arts with that completed in the School of Law in order to receive in six years the two degrees of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Laws.

Applicants for the combined degrees program will be considered only if their overall average in their pre-legal academic subjects is at least 1.5 and if their score on the Law School Admission Test is above the average required for admission.

All applicants for the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in law must have successfully completed 98 semester hours of work in the College of Liberal Arts, including:

English Composition6	semester hours
English or American Literature6
American History6	semester hours
Political Science6	semester hours
Economics	semester hours

in addition to other regularly prescribed requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree. (Suggested minor fields are history, sociology, psychology, speech, or economics and accounting combined.) The first full year of work in Law passed with a cumulative weighted average sufficient for him to remain in the Cumberland School of Law satisfies the requirements for a major.

Applicants for the combined degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science with a major in one of the academic departments and a minor in law must successfully complete three years (98 semester hours) of work, including all of the requirements listed in the current catalogue for the degree desired. The credit earned in the first full year of work in the School of Law may meet the requirement for a minor and the remaining necessary hours for the appropriate degree. For specific requirements for combined degrees see the current Howard College Catalogue.

In all cases the last thirty semester hours before entering the School of Law must be taken in residence at Howard College.

ADVANCED STANDING

Applicants who have met the admission requirements and who have also earned credits in another law school approved by the American Bar Association may be given advanced standing. Such applicants should request the registrar of each law school attended to send directly to the Office of the Dean of the Cumberland School of Law at Howard College, transcripts of their complete records, together with honorable dismissals from the school(s) last attended. An evaluation of these records will be made available to the Committee on Admissions and Advanced Standing, and credit may be allowed. If full credit is allowed, the work must equal in amount and character that required by the Cumberland School of Law. Provisional credit is first given; this becomes permanent at the end of the first year of residence if all work in the Cumberland School of Law has been satisfactory. The Cumberland School of Law reserves the right to reduce credit, or to refuse credit, if conditions so warrant. Credit for extension work, including that taken by correspondence, is not accepted. No student shall be admitted to advanced standing who has failed the bar examination of any state as many as three times. No student will be considered for admission if he is ineligible to return to the school last attended.

To be eligible for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, a transfer student must have completed one full academic year of residence in the Cumberland School of Law, including the year immediately preceding the granting of such degree and the last twenty-six semester hours of credit. He must also maintain a satisfactory grade average on work taken at Cumberland.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

A special student is defined as a person who cannot satisfy the entrance requirements established for candidates for the law degree, but who gives evidence of ability to profit by the study of law, and who has reached some maturity, not being less than 23 years of age. Under exceptional circumstances, an approved school may admit some of these students, as a matter of discretion, but usually will not confer a degree upon such a student. At this time, the Cumberland School of Law will not consider a special student for admission.

INDIVIDUAL COURSES AND AUDITING

Enrollment for individual courses is permitted with special permission. To receive academic credit, the applicant must meet the regular requirements for admission. A member of the Bar who does not seek academic credit may enroll for a course without meeting other admission requirements. He may take the examination or not, at his option.

REGISTRATION WITH THE STATE BAR COMMISSION

The State Bar Commission of Alabama requires that every person entering a law school with the intention of thereafter applying to the Alabama Bar must file a written notice of his or her intention to begin the study of law and thereafter apply for admission to the Alabama Bar with the Secretary of the Board of Commissioners of the Alabama State Bar.

Students who expect to practice law in states other than Alabama should investigate possible similar requirements in such states or should consult with the Dean of the Cumberland School of Law before registering.

The application forms used for registration with the State Bar Commission together with forms used for character affadavits and a sheet of instructions may be obtained from the Dean of the Cumberland School of Law or by writing directly to Judge John B. Scott, Secretary, Alabama State Bar, P. O. Box 2106, Montgomery, Alabama.

TERMS OF PAYMENT: The charges for the entire semester are due and payable at registration.

Entering freshmen and transfer students who wish a deferred payment plan are referred to any one of several lending and trust agencies which cooperate with the college in this connection. It should be noted that it is the sole responsibility of the student and/or his parents to make deferred payment arrangements in advance of registration. When the student presents his registration book to the Business Office at the beginning of the term, he must be prepared to pay the amount of his invoice in full unless there is already on deposit to his credit a sufficient amount to cover the semester's charges. Students and their parents who wish to investigate the various installment plans available are urged to consult the Business Manager or other personnel in the Business Office as early as possible before the beginning of the term.

CHECKS: The Business Office is authorized to cash checks up to $30.00 for students whose accounts are in good standing. Checks are also accepted for payments on accounts.

A student who presents a check to Howard College that is not subsequently honored by the bank on which the check is drawn will be charged one dollar if the check is redeemed within five school days after the date appearing on his notification of the check's return. After the five-day deadline, an additional charge of one dollar per day will be made until the check is redeemed.

REFUNDS: A student registers for the entire semester. In order to be eligible for any reduction in charges or refunds for withdrawal from college, the student must present an official withdrawal card dated and signed by the Dean of the college. In such cases, the following rules will apply:

- 1. If a student withdraws within two weeks after the beginning of a semester, 80% of all tuition, fees and room rent will be refunded. The unused portion of a resident student's meal ticket charge will be refunded on the basis of the number of weeks remaining after the week in which the withdrawal occurs.
- 2. If a student remains in college more than two weeks but less than six weeks, he will be required to pay the college 50% of all tuition, fees and room rent applying to that semester.
- 3. If a student remains in college as much as six weeks of any semester, he will be required to pay all charges for tuition, fees and room rent for the entire semester.

In no case of withdrawal of a student living in a residence hall will the $25.00 room deposit be refunded.

No deduction will be allowed for any course dropped after two weeks from the beginning of the term. The date of the drop of a class or of withdrawal from which all claims for deductions and refunds will be referred is the date appearing on the official withdrawal card signed by the Dean and returned to the Registrar's Office.

- 4. The summer session withdrawal refund policy is as follows:
  - Within the first week—80% of tuition, fees and room rent.
  - 2. After the first week, but before the end of the second week, 50% of tuition, fees and room rent.
  - 3. After two weeks no refunds will be made. In no case of withdrawal will the room deposit be refunded.
- 5. For purposes of computing adjustments, the first day of registration will be considered the first day of school.
- 6. For a student who moves from the residence hall during a term but who remains in school, the room rent refund will be computed on the same basis as a withdrawal refund.

SPECIAL INFORMATION FOR OCCUPANTS OF RESIDENCE HALLS

Residence halls for men and women are maintained by the college. An applicant desiring a room in the residence hall must complete and submit a room reservation request form which is a part of the application for admission. No additional deposit is required with this form. For those students living in the residence hall a room deposit of $25.00 is required as long as a room is occupied. This $25.00 is included in the $50.00 application deposit. If the reservation is cancelled at least 60 days before the beginning of the term, $25.00 of the application deposit will be refunded; if notice of cancellation is not received at least 60 days before the beginning of the term, no refund can be made. If the room is claimed as reserved the reservation fee becomes a security deposit as long as the room is occupied. If the student vacates a room at the end of a term after having given 30 days notice, the entire $25.00 will be refunded 2 weeks later, provided the room is in good order and keys are returned. The reservation fee of a student not admitted to the college will be refunded in full.

The applicant must note, however, that reserving a room does not in itself entitle the applicant to admission to college. Students are admitted only by the Dean of the School of Law. The wise student will apply early to the Dean for admission and housing. However, the room application will not be dated and processed until the application for admission to the Law School is approved.

Students must furnish their own pillows and linens and such bed cover as they may wish to use. They are asked not to bring curtains. Each occupant must draw a key to his room before entering the residence hall.

Heavy appliances such as irons, electric heaters, television sets, etc., are not to be used in the students' rooms. Provision is made in utility rooms for pressing clothing, and the student is expected. to furnish his own iron for use there. Coin-operated laundry machinery is also provided in the utility rooms.

Arrangements are made with a reliable city laundry to collect laundry once a week. Each student is responsible for his laundry bill, payable when the laundry is delivered.

Regulations governing residence hall occupants are established by the administration and the residence hall staff. In general, conduct becoming ladies and gentlemen is all that the regulations require.

Residence halls will be closed during regular college recesses.

SPECIAL INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WISHING TO OPERATE AUTOMOBILES ON THE CAMPUS

Each student wishing to operate an automobile on the campus will be required to pay an "identification fee" of one dollar when he registers. He will receive an operating permit decal which should be affixed in the approved manner to the driver's side of the back glass (rearview window). The approved procedure for applying the operating permit decal consists of removing the protective paper covering from the face of the decal and applying it firmly in place, face to the glass, on the driver's side of the rear view window. The window where the decal is placed should be clean and dry, and care should be taken to see that no air bubbles are left under the decal.

CAUTION: Failure to register a car and properly display the decal will subject the offender to a $5 fine.

Permits expire yearly on August 31 and must be renewed by September 25 if the car is to remain on the campus.

Ample room for parking is provided in clearly marked off-thestreet parking areas. In the interest of safety and smooth traffic flow, no parking is permitted except in these areas.

A leaflet giving detailed traffic and parking regulations may be secured in the Business Office. Violation of traffic regulations will subject the student to disciplinary action and a fine. Fines not paid within five school days will be doubled.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

OBJECTIVES. The program of the School of Law seeks to maintain high standards of legal education and thereby to prepare young men and women of intelligence, industry and character for the practice of law, and to provide legal training for those planning to enter business or public service. The aim is to develop the analytical powers of the student, as well as to provide him with a knowledge of legal principles and their historical development, and at the same time to instill in each student a high sense of the ethics of the profession.

TIME OF ENTRANCE. Beginning students are regularly admitted only in the fall semester beginning in September. Beginning students desiring to enter other than in September may consult with the Dean. Students who transfer from other law schools with the necessary prerequisites may enter the School of Law at the beginning of any semester.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION. The case method of instruction, now employed in all leading American Law Schools, is followed in the Law School. The case books used in the various courses contain carefully organized selections of authoritative and significant opinions of the various courts of the United States and other countries which reveal the law in action and the reasons for its rules. The case method of instruction is supplemented by exercises in drafting various types of legal documents, by individual creative work in a number of the courses, and by Moot Court in which the student becomes acquainted with the more practical aspects of the practice of law. A comparatively small enrollment makes possible individual instruction not practicable in the larger schools.

Students are required to study and brief all assigned cases in each of the courses and to recite in class. Written final examinations are required in all courses at the end of each semester, except such courses as are not reasonably susceptible thereto.

The laws peculiar to Alabama are noted, but, since approximately one-half of the students come from other states, the curriculum is designed to be sufficiently broad to prepare students for practice in all states.

MOOT COURT. Two hours of Moot Court are required for graduation since it is felt that this practical supplement to the regular classroom work is invaluable. Under the direction of members of the faculty, students are given special training in the preparation of cases for trial and in the presentation of cases before a trial court consisting of judge and jury.

Course of Study. The course requires a period of three academic years or 6 semesters of study. By attending continuously during the regular school year and the summer sessions it is possible to complete the work required for the degree in twenty-eight months.

UNIT OF CREDIT. The semester hour is the unit of credit. A semester hour represents a fifty-minute period of acceptable class work each week for a period of approximately eighteen weeks.

NORMAL CREDIT LOAD. The normal academic load for a student in good standing is thirteen to fifteen hours each semester. The maximum load that can be undertaken without the explicit permission of the Dean is fifteen hours. At least ten hours must be taken before a student can be classified as full-time.

EXTRA COURSES. As a general rule no student should attempt to carry more than the normal credit load of fourteen hours. Certain strong students may be allowed, however, to take extra course work. A student becomes eligible to take extra courses for credit only when he has established a quality-point ratio of 2.00 and gained the consent of the Dean. Under no circumstances will a student be allowed to take more than sixteen hours.

GRADES AND REPORTS

THE GRADING SYSTEM. Students are graded in their academic achievements according to a system of letter grades. The various letters used in grading and their meanings are listed below.

A—denotes work of finest quality and is earned by a very small percentage of a class.

B-denotes superior work of better than average quality.

- C—denotes good work of medium or average quality. Since C is the average grade, it is usually the most frequently assigned of any of the grades.
- D—denotes poor work that is definitely inferior to average quality.
- F—denotes failure. F indicates that the student's work is not equal to the minimum standard of achievement expected. This is a permanent grade, and the student must repeat the course if he should desire credit in the subject.
- I—denotes incompleteness. This is a temporary grade which must be replaced by a permanent one within one semester's time. If the student does not complete the work within the proper time, the I will be changed to F.
- WP—indicates that the student has been permitted to withdraw from the course without discredit. WP will be given in any course which the student drops prior to the end of the eighth week of the semester while doing passing work. No voluntary withdrawals are permitted thereafter.
- WF—indicates that the student's work was not of passing quality at the time of his withdrawal. This grade is permanent.

The grades A, B, C, D, and F are assigned by the instructors, and they are permanent grades. Once they have been placed on the official record sheet, the instructors cannot change them. The numerical equivalents are:

A90-100	D-55-64
B-80-89	F— 0-54
C-65-79

In order to provide a more narrow classification and in order to be able to give an accurate class rank, the school of law maintains the student's average by the numerical system.

QUALITY POINTS. The faculty rates students also by the quality of work represented by the grades which have been defined in the paragraphs preceding. Thus, a term grade of A earns three quality points for each credit hour the course carries; B earns two quality points; C earns one quality point. D and F earn no quality points. To remain in good academic standing a student must maintain at least an average of C.

Report of Grades. Generally the report of a student's grades for each semester is sent to the student personally. Parents who desire reports of the grades of their son or daughter should write directly to the Registrar. Usually the grade reports are not ready until two weeks following the close of a semester.

ATTENDANCE IN CLASS. Regularity and punctuality in class attendance are strictly required. No student may take an examination or receive credit in a course if he has been absent in the course in excess of 20 per cent of the class periods. The Dean and the faculty will consider requests for permission to be absent because of emergency conditions. Absence from classes is a factor which may be taken into consideration in determining final grades.

CONDUCT. Students of the School of Law are subject to all the general disciplinary rules of Howard College, as well as to the regulations of the School of Law. Any student who fails to make of himself a desirable member of the College and allows his conduct or influence to become objectionable and unworthy will be asked to withdraw. Any person who registers in the College agrees to this reserved right.

LATE ENROLLMENT, CHANGES OF SCHEDULES

- 1. No student shall be permitted to enroll in any course later than six days after classes in that course have begun.
- 2. All changes in schedules shall be adjusted during the first ten days of classes, and must be recorded in the Office of the Registrar by the student concerned.

DROPS

- 1. If a student who is doing satisfactory work drops a course the first eight weeks, or its equivalent, "WP" (withdrew passing) will be entered on his record. This carries no academic penalty.
- 2. If a student who is doing unsatisfactory work in a course drops it the first eight weeks or its equivalent, "WF" (withdrew failing) will be entered on his record and will carry a penalty as if it were an outright "F."
- 3. No voluntary withdrawals are permitted after the first eight weeks of a semester, or its equivalent.
- 4. If a student drops out of school or drops a course without notifying the Registrar in writing, "XF," will be entered on his record with the same penalty as "F."
- 5. The date of the course drop will be the date the official drop card is returned to the office of the Registrar.

WOMEN STUDENTS

Howard College is a co-educational institution, and women students are welcome in the School of Law.

EXAMINATIONS

Written examinations are conducted in each course at the end of every semester. A student must receive a grade of D or above in order to obtain credit. Regular attendance and satisfactory recitation in class are factors bearing upon the students eligibility to take examinations. Permission to be absent from or to make up a final examination must always be obtained from the Dean.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF LAWS (LL.B.)

Students who have completed 84 semester hours of acceptable credit with a minimum quality-point ratio of 1.00 (a quality-point ratio of 1.00 being equivalent to an average grade of C) and who have acquired six semesters of prescribed residence credit will, upon recommendation of the faculty of the School of Law, be granted the degree of Bachelor of Laws. The last 26 semester hours of acceptable credit must have been earned in residence at the Cumberland School of Law of Howard College. Any other work credited towards a law degree at Cumberland must come by transfer of credit from a law school approved by the American Bar Association.

HONORS

Candidates for the LL.B. degree who, on the basis of their three-year's record in law school, are ranked in the top ten per cent scholastically of their graduating class may, upon proper recommendation of the faculty, be awarded degrees cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude. Students who have been admitted with advanced standing from other law schools must have maintained an over-all average grade of B on all transferred credit in order to be eligible for honors.
